INDICTED IN FIRST DEGREE

Grand Jury Found True Bill
Against Lou A. Foster of Halifax

COUNSEL THINKS ERROR WAS MADE

Was Generally Understood that Indictment was for Second Degree Murder — Court May Be Asked to Clear Up Misunderstanding.

After considering the evidence half an hour, the special grand jury which was impaneled at Newfane to determine the question of indicting Lou A. Foster of Halifax for shooting Ossie Prouty of Halifax Thursday afternoon, Oct. 10, reported a true bill against Foster for murder in the first degree.

The indictment, endorsed by the jury, of which Sanford A. Daniels of Brattleboro was foreman, is in the hands of County Clerk E. D. E. Stowe. Foster is being held a prisoner in the county jail at Newfane, but no date has been set for his trial, except that it will follow the trial of Abner F. Richards of Bellows Falls, who also is charged with murder, which is set for Oct. 28.

While the indictment plainly charges premeditated murder, there has been a grave misunderstanding in regard to it, so much so, in fact, that it is not unlikely that the matter will be brought before the court to have it cleared up. After the document had been delivered by the jury to the county clerk, endorsed as "a true bill," no one saw it until this forenoon. Notwithstanding that fact, it was generally understood last night by the respondent's counsel, the sheriff's department and citizens generally that the indictment was for murder in the second degree.

It was so reported to the attorneys for Foster, on what seemed to be unquestionable authority, and it was so reported to the newspaper correspondents and by them sent to the various papers which they represented, and it was not until this forenoon that the error was discovered.

At Newfane today Judge E. W. Gibson, of counsel for Foster, asked to see the indictment and learned with much surprise that it did not mention second degree murder. The juryman have no right to talk about their deliberations, and when The Reformer asked State's Attorney A. V. D. Piper for an explanation he simply stated that the record would show, and he would give no further information.

While no answer is forthcoming, the question which arises in the minds of those not connected with the grand jury or the prosecuting department is as to whether the jury returned the document which it thought it was returning. Certain ones connected with the case feel positive that an error has been made.

As in all cases of this kind, only the state's evidence was heard, with a view to determining whether there was ground for holding the respondent, and when the case comes into court for trial the jury can find for anything less than what is charged in the indictment, even to acquittal. They could not declare the respondent guilty of any greater crime than that charged, however, so that a second degree indictment would be to the decided advantage of the respondent.

RESCUE CREW LOST.

Twenty-Two More Men Probably Perished in Dawson Mine.

DAWSON, New Mexico, Oct. 24. — Two hundred and twenty men were still entombed today in the Stag Canyon mine where the explosion occurred Wednesday. Twenty-three miners have been taken out alive and 38 bodies have been recovered. Twenty-two of the belated rescue crew were lost in the workings today and it is believed they are dead. Two others who accompanied them were brought out barely alive.

10TH CAVALRY TO ARIZONA.

Troop at Fort Ethan Allen to Have Turn at Mexican Border.

BURLINGTON, Oct. 24. — In accordance with the plans of the war department to relieve the 2d and 5th troops of cavalry from duty on the Mexican border, the commander of the military post here received orders from Washington today to be in readiness to take the 10th Cavalry to Fort Huachuca, Ari.

MONTEREY IS UNDER FIRE

Rebels Attack Most Important City of Northern Mexico on All Sides

ARE USING CANNONS AND MACHINE GUNS

Fighting Is Reported to Be Severe — Reinforcements Unable to Reach the Scene Owing to the Destruction of the Railroad Bridges.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 24. — The attack of the rebels on the city of Monterey began Wednesday night and was raging in the outskirts at 10 yesterday morning, when telegraphic communications were interrupted. At that hour the rebel forces had occupied the railroad yard a mile from the city, and with several cannon and machine guns were bombarding the federal fortifications. The attack upon the city was made from all four sides, and the fighting was severe. Several federal reinforcements under General Robin Navarrete at Ramosos, 100 miles north, were unable to proceed to Monterey, owing to the destruction of the bridges.

VERMONT TEACHERS MEET.

Upward of 1200 Registered for 6th Annual Convention.

MONTPELIER, Oct. 24. — The 6th annual convention of the Vermont School Teachers' association opened a three days' convention here yesterday afternoon in city hall, which is filled from basement to dome with school exhibits from 20 towns and cities. At 6 last night upward of 1200 teachers had registered.

The afternoon program consisted of welcoming addresses by Mason S. Stone, state superintendent of education; Governor Allen M. Fletcher and Mayor James B. Estee, with responses by President Allison E. Tuttle.

The principal addresses were made by President Tuttle, who spoke in favor of industrial education; Prof. F. B. Jenks, University of Vermont, The Teaching of Agriculture in Our Public Schools, and Rev. Dr. B. D. Myles of Springfield, Mass., The Coming American.

EATON DRUG FIEND IS DEFENSE'S CLAIM

Admiral a User of Drugs and Bought 4600 Arsenic Tablets — Admiral Clark a Witness.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 24. — Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, whose widow, Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, is on trial here charged with his murder, was painted in the opening address of the defense yesterday as a "drug fiend" and a man of dual personalities, a veritable "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

Attorney Francis J. Geoghan, who made the opening argument, declared it would be shown that Admiral Eaton was addicted to the use of liquor and drugs to such an extent that he endangered his vessel and the lives of men under him when in the navy.

The death of the admiral was due, Attorney Geoghan insisted, to arsenic self-administered. This was secured, he said, from a Boston physician who supplied the admiral in all with 4600 tablets containing the poison, to be used as medicine.

Mr. Geoghan announced that Mrs. Eaton, the defendant, would take the stand and tell the story of her life. After outlining the principal points of Mrs. Eaton's story, including her divorce from her first husband, her marriage to Admiral Eaton and their removal to the Aspinet to raise chickens, Attorney Geoghan touched on the admiral's death.

He described the visit which Mrs. Eaton made to her married daughter, Mrs. Jane Keyes, in Medford, three days before the admiral died. "The admiral," Eaton went to his home," said Mr. Geoghan, "to see his daughter and an affectionate farewell and left him in the bath with a man who was buying a load of hay. He said as she left: 'There's a fine woman. She's a good wife.'"

Rear Admiral Charles E. Clark, commander of the battleship Oregon on her famous voyage around the world, gave testimony as to the personal habits of Rear Admiral Eaton. As president of the naval and examining and retiring board, he said, he declined a request from a physician to assign an assignment to a position on some naval vessel, because he had heard of habits of intemperance on the part of Eaton. To this, Admiral Clark replied that he had been forced on account of illness to take something which caused the condition referred to.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 24. — Judge George W. Kelley of Rockland, a friend of the Eaton family, testified at the trial today. He spoke partly in praise of the admiral's fondness for his wife, and said he had heard the admiral speak of his respect for his wife. At one time he said "I have a remarkable wife who has been of great help to me, but she has one objection to me, she says I am a drug fiend."

Nally testified to the habits of Eaton while in command of the Massachusetts nautical training ship in 1897 or 1898. He said that the admiral, then captain, was intoxicated at times, apparently with liquor, and at other times he was befuddled. He laughed freely. The admiral was not steady on his feet, stared vacantly, yet there was no odor of liquor.

CHILDREN ESCAPE FIRE.

School, Library and Other Buildings Burned at South Manchester, Conn.

SOUTH MANCHESTER, Conn., Oct. 24. — Fire which started in a waste basket of the 9th district school here yesterday afternoon destroyed the school building, a three-story wooden structure, soon after the 900 school children had marched out in perfect order; swept to the public library adjoining and thence to other buildings, destroying in all eight houses and damaging many others. The estimated loss is $200,000. One of the buildings destroyed was the home of hose company No. 1.

The schoolhouse was built of pine throughout, and the fire burned with astonishing rapidity. If the building had not been properly equipped with fire escapes, quite a few lives would probably have resulted. The school children had barely gotten out of the building before the schoolhouse was a blazing furnace.

The 10,000 odd volumes in the public library were saved by an endless chain being formed, each person carrying a bundle of books. With several buildings burning simultaneously and the fire threatening to spread, help was summoned from Hartford and the fire apparatus from that city helped save the day. The fire raged nearly four hours before being controlled. Cheney Brothers, silk manufacturers, owned the building, at which certain reformers, the heaviest losers. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

MRS. C. W. FAIRBANKS DEAD.

Wife of Former Vice President — Ex-President General of D. A. R.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 24. — Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, wife of the former vice president of the United States, died at her home this morning from pneumonia. She leaves a husband and five children. Mrs. Fairbanks was a prominent figure in the social life of Washington at one time and had served as president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wetherbee of West Rutledge, N. H., returned to their home Wednesday after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Perry.

HAD RUN OF NINETY MILES

Board of Trade's Auto Trip Pleasant and Successful Affair

WELCOME BY WARE AT TOWNSHEND

Speaking by Cowles, Crosby, Houghton, Rice, Dunham and Osgood Along Route — Killing of Dog Only Accident — List of Those Who Went.

The 19 automobiles that took part in the Brattleboro board of trade's second "better acquaintance" tour reached home late yesterday afternoon after a run of approximately 90 miles. The trip was devoid of accidents, except for the killing of a dog near Wardsboro Station and several cases of minor tire trouble. The weather was delightful, and every one of those who made the journey was enthusiastic about the success of the affair.

The first stop was made at Newfane, where a considerable number of persons had gathered on the court house green. Deacons Cowles introduced Charles H. Crosby, who spoke briefly on the need of co-operation between Brattleboro and the West River valley towns.

At Townshend there was another good turnout and the visitors were given a welcome in behalf of the townspeople by John H. Ware. President M. C. Houghton responded, after which H. G. Rice spoke of the board of trade's desire to help the valley towns in any way within its power.

G. L. Dunham was the speaker at West Townshend, and his remarks were along the same lines as those of the previous speakers. At Jamaica the speaker was Rev. E. Q. S. Osgood, who mentioned the mutual benefit of getting better acquainted.

The party reached South Londonderry shortly after noon and partook of an excellent dinner at the two hotels. The return trip was made by way of Chester and Bellows Falls, where brief stops were made, and the merchants in Westminster and Putney were also visited. Following is a list of those who composed the party:

E. M. Angier, R. B. Amundson, J. E. Bushnell, George W. Brooks, C. A. Boyden, L. L. Burnett, Peter Biagotti, Carl F. Chin, D. Cowles, William Oshman, C. R. Crosby, Fred H. Crosby, C. W. Cleaveland, Gilbert Dwyer, George L. Dunham, P. A. DeWitt, John Dugan, S. W. Edgerton, L. J. Eldridge, L. S. Edwards, O. L. French, D. H. Gilman, D. G. Gison, E. M. Goodenough, E. E. Gohie, J. E. Helyar, E. L. Hildreth, Gustaf Hertzberg, W. H. Heywood, M. C. Houghton, W. L. Hunt, Carl S. Hopkins, Harry Hans, Frank Howard, Edward R. Leach, P. B. Putnam, C. A. McKee, J. Edgar Mellen, E. H. Miller, A. E. Miller, Adin E. Miller, G. P. Miller, E. V. Morse, P. W. Nichols, William H. Newton, Thomas W. Owens, G. Q. S. Osgood, E. E. Perry, W. H. Proctor, Clay W. Powers, H. C. Rice, A. E. Roberts, A. W. Rockwell, Charles G. Staples, Henry C. Spicers, A. P. Simonds, W. A. Shumway, O. D. Stoddard, J. Sutherland, E. C. Tenney, George R. Tomlinson, A. S. Thompson, M. P. Davis, F. R. Vaughan, Horton D. Walker, J. H. Ware, B. F. Wealthy, Charles H. W. Wellman, C. H. Willard, Fred H. Willard, Holland J. Wilson, H. M. Wood, A. D. Wyatt, S. H. Yew, C. R. Albrecht and Fred Burpee.

WORLD'S W. C. T. U.

Every State of the Union and 30 Foreign Countries Represented.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24. — The triennial convention of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union opened today at the Manhattan Hotel in Brooklyn, with nearly 1,000 delegates present, representing every state in the United States and 30 foreign countries. Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens, of Portland, Me., vice president of the international organization, presided in the absence of the Countessess of Carlisle, the president. The opening sessions were devoted to the reports of committees and the which ribbon missionaries in various parts of the world.

BALL PLAYERS MAKE DEMANDS.

Will Not Sign 1914 Contracts Until Reforms Are Adopted.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24. — The statement is made here today that the major league baseball players who are members of the Players' Protective Fraternity have signed an agreement not to close contracts for 1914 season until after the annual meetings of the club owners, at which certain reforms drawn up by the players will be submitted. The demands have to do with the release of players and the continuance of the contract salaries when men are transferred to other clubs.

Mr. and Mrs. John Evardson of Keene, N. H., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Perry of Pearl street.

SUPPER AND DANCE ATTRACTED OVER 400

Banner Event of Its Kind in Grange Hall in Dunmoreton — Concert by Leitinger's Orchestra.

More than 400 persons attended the game supper and dance given by Evening Star Grange hall in Dunmoreton Centre last night and this morning. It was the ninth annual affair of its kind and carried off the banner in point of attendance and success. Supper was served from 6 to 9 o'clock and again at 11 o'clock, consisting of corn, venison, roast duck, chicken pie, cake, jelly, salads, tea, coffee and other edibles.

Mrs. W. F. Walker and Mrs. F. O. Downes had charge of the kitchen and Mrs. Lilla Reed the dining room, with helpers. The chicken pie committee was W. J. Ray and Mrs. Abbie Patch. The soliciting committee consisted of Mr. Ray, Mrs. Patch, Mrs. Jennie Fisher, Mrs. M. E. Brown, Mrs. Emma Downes, Mrs. Dora Davis, Mrs. Lillian Williams and Mrs. Lenna Tenney.

From 8 to 9 o'clock Leitinger's orchestra of Brattleboro gave a special fine concert, including a cornet solo by Sewall Morse, who is a favorite with Dunmoreton people.

Dancing was in progress from 9 to 3 o'clock and at one time 96 couples were on the floor and many others were in the hall. W. F. Walker, master of the Grange, was floor director and was assisted by competent aids, and Harry Wales acted as prompter.

Visitors were present from West Dunmoreton, Williamsville, Newfane, West Chesterfield, Springfield, Vt., East Dover, Putney, Vernon, Fairfield Centre, Athol and other places.

The gross receipts were $365.50, besides the barn rent and income from minor sources. A part of the net receipts will be applied to the debt on the hall. This hall had a debt of $1500 when it was dedicated in 1910, but it had been cut to $800 at the beginning of this year and has been reduced somewhat since then. The Grange has a membership of about 80.

MORSE LAWSUIT SETTLED FOR $2000

Claimants Wanted $7000 — Suits Involved Matters of Long Standing — Victory for Defense.

After much evidence had been put in at county court yesterday in the case of the estate of John H. Morse, claimant, against the estate of Francis H. Morse and Lewis H. Lynde, appellant, that suit and one coincident with it, that of Eliza S. Morse, claimant, against the estate of Francis H. Morse and Lewis H. Lynde, appellant, were settled by agreement. The settlement was for $2000 as against the original claim of $7000. A. P. Carpenter and W. R. Daley were for the claimants and Chase & Chase and E. W. Gibson for the defendants.

These suits involved matters that preceded the death, over 30 years ago, of John H. Morse. His son, Francis H. Morse, continued on the farm and bought the interests of four of the five heirs. He married and died. Claims were made against the estate of Francis for the real estate left by John H. Morse, amounting to between $10,000 and $12,000, and finally Mrs. Eliza Morse, widow of John H., brought suit against the estate of Francis H. for work done during his occupancy of the farm after the death of her husband and prior to her leaving.

Commissioners awarded Mrs. Eliza Morse about $1200 against the estate of Francis H., and about $8000 against the estate of John H. Morse. Those suits have now been settled for $2000.

SECURED $15,000.

Big Haul by Postoffice Robbers at Attica, Ohio.

CHICAGO JUNCTION, Ohio, Oct. 24. — Robbers early today blew open the safe in the postoffice at Attica, Ohio, and escaped with $15,000. The explosion demolished the two-story building in which the office was located and rocked the entire town.

Fourteen Years in Business.

Fourteen years ago this week E. J. Pouton & Co., started their clothing business in the store now occupied by Leithan's barber shop in the City building. The quarters now occupied by this firm are 10 times as large as the store in which they began doing business, showing a tremendous business growth during this period. Pouton & Co. are to commemorate the event with an anniversary sale starting tomorrow morning and continuing through next week. Special bargains are offered in every department in addition to the 100 special advertised articles in the full page advertisement in today's Reformer. Other special bargains for next week will be mentioned in future issues of this paper. The Brothers Leithan, aged 9 and 11, will sing in the music department of the five-and-ten-cent basement tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Miss Ruth Boorn has gone to Boston to spend a few days with her sister, Miss Marion Boorn, who is attending Simmons college.

COLONIAL DAMES MET

Sixteenth Annual Session of State Society Held in Brattleboro

EXCELLENT BANQUET IN BAPTIST CHAPEL

Mrs. J. J. Estey First Vice President — Happy Remarks by Mrs. L. K. Fuller — Greetings from Other Societies — List of Those Present.

The 16th annual meeting of the Vermont Society of Colonial Dames was held yesterday afternoon in the banquet hall of Masonic temple, Miss Jennie A. Valentine of Bennington, state president, presiding and calling the meeting to order promptly at 3 o'clock. About 60 members of the order were present.

Following the recital of the Lord's prayer, the president spoke of the fact that they all had ceased to be surprised when knowledge came to them that something unusual had been accomplished by one of their number. She spoke of A Song of Old Vermont, that had been dedicated to the Vermont Society of Colonial Dames by one of their number, Mrs. Carolyn W. Pomeroy of Wells. Copies of this were distributed to the members and with Mrs. Salome Bixby Ross of Bennington at the piano the four verses and choruses were sung to the tune of Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys Are Marching.

As the last verse was being sung Mrs. Pomeroy entered the room and seated herself near the door, but she did not escape the eye of the president, who informed everyone in the room that they could see the author by turning around.

In speaking of the fact that it was customary for a society to be welcomed, the president called attention to the bouquet of American Beauty roses, to a huge bouquet of violets and referred to chrysanthemums sent to her room at the Brooks House and said that with these evidences to attest a welcome it seemed superfluous, but she called upon Mrs. Levi K. Fuller to extend one.

Mrs. Fuller was especially happy in her remarks. After expressing the belief that such organizations as the Colonial Dames were needed to promote knowledge of national history among the younger generation she referred to the fact that there was a long period between the landing of the Pilgrims and the Revolutionary war that was almost a blank. Referring happily and entertainingly to some famous Colonial Dames of that period, she returned to the question of preserving history.

She said that she wanted it written down in black and white that those who come after may read and learn. She had lost her faith in markers since one at the site of Fort Dunmore had been moved from the site to a spot fathoms below the surface of the Connecticut river; and marking graves she had lost faith in, since portions of cemeteries have been sold for factory sites, local references that brought forth appreciative applause and laughter.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Vail of Fair Haven, vice president, responded, saying that such welcomes and past experiences made it dangerous for Brattleboro unless the town desired their convention every alternate year.

Mrs. J. A. DeBoer of Montpelier, state regent of the D. A. R., brought the greetings of 1408 members of that order, saying that for several years she had been privileged to have the honor and appreciated it more in that this was her last opportunity. She closed with congratulations to President Valentine upon her safe return to her native state from a long trip abroad.

Mrs. A. S. Isham of Burlington, president of the Daughters of 1812, brought greetings from that younger and smaller order, of which there are only 114 members, saying that the organization would be glad to co-operate with the older patriotic organizations of the state.

President Valentine spoke at some length and referred in particular to her visit to England, where she attended one Sunday the Pilgrim Fathers' Memorial Congregational church, the first edifice for which was built in 1610, and of the inspiration she received from her visit there.

The report of Mrs. Salome Bixby Ross of Bennington, recording secretary, was accepted and the report of the treasurer showed that there was a balance on hand of $1290.06. This report also was accepted, as was that of the auditor, Mrs. Smith.

Miss Mary M. Tuttle of Poulney, historian, reported three deaths during the year and gave brief sketches of each. They were Mrs. Julia C. Ripley Dorr of Rutland, Mrs. Charles H. Deary of Illinois and Mrs. Susan Roberts Miner of Manchester, Conn.

Mrs. Emma D. Best of Montpelier.
